

DoD's Victim and Witness Definitions

The DoD uses the following definitions for victim and witness, but more information may be available through your installation's Victim Witness Assistance Program, which is usually located in the installation legal office (Judge Advocate).

A victim is a person who has suffered direct physical, emotional, or financial harm as a result of a crime committed in violation of the Uniform Code of Military Justice. Victims of crime in other jurisdictions are also included if any portion of the investigation is conducted primarily by a DoD component. Such individuals include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Military members and their families
- DoD civilian employees, contractors, and their family members (when stationed outside the continental United States). However, in stateside locations this group is not eligible for some services, such as medical care in military medical facilities.
- Children or people needing representation. When a victim is under 18 years of age, incompetent, incapacitated, or deceased, the term, victim, includes one of the following (in order of precedence): a spouse, legal guardian, parent, child, sibling, another family member, or another person designated by a court or legal authority.

A witness is a person who provides information or evidence about a criminal offense within the investigative responsibility of the DoD. When the witness is a minor, the term witness includes a minor's family member or legal guardian. The term does not include a defense witness or an individual involved in the crime as a perpetrator or accomplice.

Victim Witness Assistance Program

Once an investigation is initiated, a Victim-Witness Liaison (VWL) is available to assist sexual assault victims. A VWL assists victims with exercising their federally mandated rights and with navigating the criminal justice system. VWLs also provide information on services and resources, and interact with lawyers and commanders. VWLs help ensure the victim's situation is respected, that victims have a voice in the process, and that victims are kept informed of the status of the investigation and prosecution.

Resources

To locate your Victim-Witness Liaison, you should contact your local installation's office of the Staff Judge Advocate or base legal office. The Office of the Staff Judge Advocate is located in building AS-216 on Bancroft Street.

Victim and Witness Assistance Programs

The Department of Defense Victim Witness Assistance Program assists victims of crime -- including sexual assault -- by providing information and access to resources. DoD Directive 1030.01, Victim and Witness Assistance (April 23, 2007) and DoD Instruction 1030.2, Victim and Witness Procedures (June 4, 2004) implement statutory requirements for the DoD programs. These DoD policies also provide guidance for assisting victims and witnesses of crime from initial contact through investigation, prosecution, and confinement. Particular attention is paid to victims of serious and violent crime, including child abuse, domestic violence, and sexual misconduct.

Victim's Bill of Rights

The Directive includes a DoD Victims' Bill of Rights, which resembles the Federal Crime Victims' Bill of Rights. DoD law enforcement and legal personnel directly engaged in the detection, investigation, or prosecution of crimes are responsible for ensuring that victims of military-related crime are accorded the following rights:

1. Be treated with fairness and respect for the victim's dignity and privacy.
2. Be reasonably protected from the accused offender.
3. Be notified of court proceedings.
4. Be present at all public court proceedings related to the offense, unless the court determines that testimony by the victim would be materially affected if the victim heard other testimony at trial.
5. Confer with the attorney for the Government in the case.
6. Receive available restitution.
7. Be provided information about the conviction, sentencing, imprisonment, and release of the offender.

Additionally, court-martial convening authorities, as well as clemency and parole boards, shall consider making restitution to the victim a condition of pretrial agreements, sentence reduction, clemency, and parole. They may consider victim statements on the impact of crime when reviewing a case.

Victims' rights are more than the discrete rights created by specific statutes or judicial decisions. Victims' rights are about the victims' participation in the criminal justice system and about changing the culture of that system to accommodate such participation.
